Preparing for the future as funding falls

MORE than £100,000 is going to be cut from Haverhill Town Council's budget as the Government urges local authorities to tighten their belts.

The town council is going to lose an estimated £129,000 in grants from St Edmundsbury Borough Council, which ruled to reduce its support by 25 per cent each year until the money is phased out in 2017/18.

Town Clerk Will Austin has criticised the borough for not discussing the cut with town councillors before it was passed at full council on Monday.

Mr Austin says Haverhill Town Council only found out about the funding days before the meeting.

He said: "We accept the borough's decision but I feel that some councillors have been misled because they were told that town and borough councils were consulted, and we most certainly were not."

Mr Austin said that the £129,000 which will be phased out equates to 15 per cent of the town council's money.

And he warned that as a result some of the town's major events could be at risk of being cancelled.

DEBRA FOX

A spokeswoman for the borough council said that reducing the money given to the town council is not a cut.

She said: "It reflects the council's cut in funding due to the way the Government last year changed the council tax benefit subsidy."

The Government awarded a discretionary grant to the district and borough councils which collect council tax for the financial year 2013/14.

St Edmundsbury gave out the entire grant to their parish and town councils, but now they don't have sufficient funding to do so.

Town mayor Cllr Roger André has said that while the town council recognises that authorities need to make savings there seems no need for the funding to be removed completely.

He said: "The people of Haverhill should be properly consulted on the measure and should have the opportunity to demonstrate the impact on our community to borough councillors to enable them to come to a considered decision."

The council spokeswoman said: "It was a decision, not a consultation, because consultation is about options – in this case St Edmundsbury's only options were to keep the money, pass on the cut or reduce services."

"It is now up to towns and parishes to decide how they will deal with the impact of the Government's decision."

Cuts to local authority funding have come at the same time as proposed community budget plans – a move to put neighbourhoods in control of how their money is spent.

Haverhill was one of 12 pilot locations selected to take part in the scheme, overseen by ONE Haverhill.

Sarah Howard, chair of ONE Haverhill board, said: "One of the key drivers for establishing a successful community budget is that we all know that councils' budgets are going to continue to be cut for the next few years so it's essential that they are doing everything they can to use their money better."

HAPPY AND HEALTHY: Little Ava with mum and dad Jenna and Adam, left, and above, in hospital shortly after her birth

'We wanted to give something back'

AFTER staying in a maternity hospital to be with her sick baby daughter, Jenna Moss was desperate to find a way to give back to the charity who helped her.

Jenna, from Haverhill, and husband Adam were put up in hospital accommodation following the birth of their daughter Ava on February 17.

Little Ava was born with the umbilical cord wrapped around her neck, which caused a lack of oxygen to her brain.

She was rushed to the neonatal intensive care unit (NICU) at the Rosie Hospital in Cambridge for treatment.

The couple were invited to stay in Chestnut House for a week so they did not have to be apart from their daughter, who stayed in hospital until March 2.

DEBRA FOX

Jenna, 26, said: "It was a really worrying time for us and we didn't want to leave Ava's side so being able to stay close by her was so important."

"We were not able to hold Ava for the first five days, which was so hard but being able to sit with her from morning to night helped us to bond with her and cope with the situation."

Jenna said they feel lucky to have Ava happy, healthy and at home but their experience at Chestnut House made them want to give back to the charity, and raise money to support other parents who might find themselves in a similar situation.

The 26-year-old said: "They were a lifeline to us, as well as our family and friends."

"Every day I feel blessed because it could have been all so different - she could have been brain damaged or she could have died and I am so lucky to have a healthy baby."

Jenna, of Chedburgh Place, invited family and friends round to her home for a morning of hot drinks, tasty treats and a raffle, including prizes donated by Diva and JJ's Hair and Beauty in Haverhill.

Their generosity and participation raised £380.

Alan Booth, house manager of Chestnut House said: "I am so pleased to hear that Ava is now home and well with her family. We are so thankful to Jenna for organising a coffee morning for us and we hope everyone had a lovely time."

"It costs £28 to accommodate a family for one night in Chestnut House so the money Jenna has raised will help us to support many more families when they need it most."

Jenna has also raised £65 online via Just Giving. To make a donation visit justgiving.com/Jenna-Moss

Haverhill welcomes a new addition to church

A CELEBRATION service for a newly qualified lay preacher has taken place at Haverhill Methodist Church.

Nick Wray is a popular face for the local congregation in Camps Road, and in other churches which have crossed his path.

Mr Wray has completed years of course work during his preacher training, which included practical assessments, taking exams and submitting essays.

The service was conducted by Haverhill Methodist Church Minister, Rev Nigel Bishop and the visiting preacher for the celebration was Rev Barbara Garwood, who had also acted as Nick's tutor during his education.

Caring pastors take to the town's streets

KIND-hearted pastors from Haverhill churches have been taking their services to the streets.

Members of Haverhill and District churches man the town's streets on a Friday night and Saturday morning to help anyone who falls into trouble.

Captain Andrew Payne, who coordinates the scheme, told Haverhill

Town Council of the Town Pastors' recent work, which has included putting first aid skills to the test.

The pastors' deputy chairman Ian Levett told the council how the team had assisted a young girl having an epileptic fit while they waited for an ambulance.

They also recently helped a 17-year-old boy who was drunk.

10-year ban for man, 70, who caused suffering to pet dogs

SUFFERING: Heidi, top, and Mimi, were both found to have large growths which made it difficult for them to walk.

A PENSIONER has been banned from keeping any animals for 10 years after he neglected his pet dogs.

John Staples, 70, of Lulworth Drive, Haverhill, pleaded guilty to ignoring the needs of his dogs, Heidi and Mimi, on September 5 at Bury St Edmunds Magistrates Court.

Both animals were suffering from external growths, which made it difficult for them to walk, and Staples, 70, had made no move to take them to see a vet.

The dogs had been suffering for a minimum of two months before the RSPCA intervened in February this year and took the dogs away.

Jonathan Ripman, prosecuting, said that some of the growths were as big as 10cm and that they could have been easily treated if the dogs had received veterinary care.

He said: "Staples said he had not done anything wrong, or anything deliberately. He said he was experienced in looking after dogs, and not as bad as some others."

Heidi, a 13-year-old brown labrador, also had severe skin ulcers and had to be put down.

Mimi, a six to eight-year-old cocker spaniel, had halitosis and a thick layer of tartar covering her teeth.

DEBRA FOX

The RSPCA have pulled out her teeth, leaving only the canines behind, and she cannot be rehomed because she is too nervous.

Staples, who has other dogs and a cat at home, said he did not take Heidi and Mimi for treatment because he could not afford to pay vets bills, and he wanted to try and spare his pets more pain.

Nick Wray, mitigating, said: "The problems with these dogs are not because of anything he has done wrong. They are problems that come with old age."

"He has failed to take the appropriate action and he recognises he should have done something."

Inspector Richard Lythgoe of the RSPCA said that the 10 year ban is the best they could have hoped for.

He said: "The outcome of the case sends out a sign that the courts and the British public will not allow cruelty to animals."

"These dogs were caused a huge amount of suffering because their owner failed to get them care."

Staples was also ordered to pay £250 towards court costs and he has been given seven days to find homes for his other pets.

Robbers warned they face jail terms

A PAIR of street robbers have been warned they face immediate custody for their crimes.

Luke Perry, 22, and Stephen Pryce, 20, appeared at Ipswich Crown Court on Friday and pleaded guilty to robbery.

The incident, which happened on July 21, saw the pair take a phone and an iPad.

Perry, of Cangle Junction, Haverhill, had 23 previous convictions for 48 offences.

Pryce, of Sorrel Walk, Haverhill, who was subject to a community order at the time of the robbery, has asked for 14 other offences to be taken into consideration, the court heard.

Judge Rupert Overbury remanded the two men in custody and told them that immediate custody was inevitable. Sentencing will take place later this month.

Lessons continue in town during teachers' strike

SCHOOLS across Haverhill were mostly open as normal during a countryside teacher strike on Tuesday.

Castle Manor Academy and the majority of the town's primary schools were business as usual for the school day, despite many schools across Cambridgeshire and Suffolk closing.

Samuel Ward Academy, on Chalkstone Way, was only open for Years 7 and 8.

In a letter sent home to parents, head of school Andy Prestoe explained that the school was open for these year groups in order to support parents who would otherwise need additional childcare.

The school day ended at 2.50pm as all after school activities were cancelled.

Pupils from Years 9, 10, 11 and Sixth Form were encouraged to use revision websites and the academy's virtual learning environment to ensure they did not miss out during the closure.

Clements Community Primary School, on Greenfields Way, had teachers present for Years 2 and 4 only, with other staff taking part in the strike.

More than 90 schools in Cambridgeshire were partially closed on Tuesday and hundreds of teachers met on Parkers Piece in Cambridge to protest.

The strike was a result of joint action across the two biggest teaching unions NUT and NASUWT.

Other teachers reportedly agreed with the strike, but could not afford to lose a day's pay so attended work instead.

Councils together to fight cuts

THE largest councils in Suffolk plan to work together to overcome cuts.

New figures have revealed that from April next year until March 2016, the county's councils are expecting to experience a £62.7 million cut in government funding, equivalent to 39 per cent overall.

St Edmundsbury Borough Council alone will be forced to save £1.6 million in grants – which amounts to 47 per cent.

The political leaders and chief executives from the Suffolk County Council and the seven district and borough authorities plan to work together to cut costs by building on joint working arrangements that are already in place across councils.

They will also try and form new partnerships to protect their services.

Leader of Suffolk County Council Cllr Mark Bee, has said that the local authorities need to work together to help make the savings.

He said: "It's important that we do not underestimate the scale of the financial challenge facing local government in the next two years.

"But that doesn't mean that there aren't things that we can do, together, to help manage the challenge."

Pyjamas, cake and stories for first birthday

PARTY TIME: Alison Midgley and the children at Blois Meadow Day Nursery.

Picture by Keith Heppell

AN OUTSTANDING nursery celebrated a successful year with a sleepover-themed party.

Blois Meadow Day Nursery in Steeple Bumpstead was taken over by teacher Alison Midgley and husband Ross on October 1 last year.

In less than eight months, the teacher had transformed the failing nursery into a top rated facility, and it has been a whirlwind year of achievement.

On Tuesday, the nursery's children were invited to wear their pyjamas and indulge in cake and party games at the one year celebration.

The anniversary also coincided with Read for RNIB day, so the children were treated to bedtime stories too as a way of combining the two events.

Alison said: "The children didn't actually sleep over, but we asked parents to bring them to nursery in pyjamas and to make a donation to RNIB.

"As well as all the normal nursery activities, there were bedtime stories and a party with games and birthday cake.

"The money we raise will be sent to RNIB to fund large print and talking books and reading clubs."

Blois Meadow Day Nursery is open all year round and caters for almost 50 children, aged 3 months to 5 years, in a peaceful and secure village location.

Places are in demand following their successful Ofsted inspection earlier this year, but there are still some spaces available.

Parents are welcome to drop in at any time or to make an appointment by visiting www.bloismeadow-daynursery.com or calling Alison on 01440 730520.

'Bully' landlord found guilty of sex offences

A "JEKYLL and Hyde" pub landlord who was found guilty of 18 sex offences against young girls failed to turn up for sentencing after a suspected heart attack.

Peter Lee, 75, formerly of Deans Close, Haverhill, and The Woolpack on Queen Street, was found guilty of 12 indecent assaults on a girl under 16 and six counts of gross indecency with a girl under 16 after a six-day trial.

The 75-year-old, now of Lords Lane, Heacham, denied the allegations, but the jury of eight men and four women convicted the pensioner after just over four hours of deliberation at Ipswich Crown Court on Tuesday.

Lee was due to return to court for sentencing at 2pm yesterday, but was admitted to hospital after a suspected heart attack.

Sentencing has been postponed until October 16, at the earliest.

The 75-year-old has been on bail throughout the proceedings.

DEBRA FOX

Lee's offences took place between 1972 and 1981 while he was living in Haverhill.

Both of Lee's victims, who were under 16 at the time of the abuse, gave evidence in the trial and told the court that they were too afraid to come forward at the time.

After getting in touch with each other and discussing their experiences, the women decided to go to the police.

The court heard during the trial that media reports of high profile sexual abuse cases, including those involving Jimmy Savile, had encouraged the two women to finally come forward more than 30 years after keeping the abuse a secret.

The 75-year-old was arrested in January.

One of the women is now in her 40s, and the other in her 50s.

The younger of the two women told the court: "Peter Lee physically and sexually abused me and I can't let him be a pillar of society any longer."

Lee reportedly touched the girls over and inside their underwear while making them touch him indecently.

The older woman reported similar experiences to the court, and also said that the abuse took place on an almost weekly basis and that Lee told her it was "our little secret".

She claimed that the abuse began when she was aged nine and did not cease until she was 15.

Charles Myatt, prosecuting, described Lee as a "Jekyll and Hyde" character, who behaved like a bully behind closed doors.

He said: "He had a public front as the life and soul of any situation, everyone got on with him, but behind the scenes he was a physical and sexual bully."

Mr Myatt also said that Lee told police on arrest that he did not understand why the girls were lying about him, and that the allegations were not true.

I lost nearly five stone – and now I just love to run!

DISGUSTED by the thought of having to buy clothes in a size 22, mum-of-four Chris Bowers was more determined than ever before to rid the extra pounds.

Less than 18 months later, the 38-year-old had dropped from 14 stones 13.5lbs to 10 stones and 6.5lbs.

Chris joined Slimming World in January 2011, after a birthday outfit forced her to take a long, hard look in the mirror.

She said: "My sister had bought me an outfit for my birthday, and it was tight in a size 20. I just couldn't bring myself to have to buy the next size up."

"My friend said Slimming World was easy, and my husband was worrying about my health and I have four young children."

By May 2012, she had shed nearly five stone. A year on, the mum-of-four has maintained her weight.

Chris, of Westward Deals, Kedington, said: "It took me a while to realise that I had actually lost it, and I wasn't the same size I was before."

Despite falling head over heels for the healthy versions of family meal favourites, the mum-of-four sacrificed her favourite snack foods and biggest vice – cheese – in the name of fighting fat.

As Chris altered her eating habits and the pounds dropped off, she wanted to become more active.

The 38-year-old, who has four daughters Becky, 13, Lucy, 10, and twins Abbie and Evie, 5, ran her first half marathon in October 2011.

Since getting bitten by the exercise bug, Chris has now completed another half marathon, a 10K run and charity cycle rides.

She said: "It's given me a whole new lease of life and it's given me time with my husband because we go running together and on bike rides."

Chris and Stephen, 48, have been together for 19 years and married for 12.

When she reached her target weight, the mum-of-four was whisked away to the Trafford Centre for a shopping spree, no expense spared.

Shopping, Chris says, is a whole new experience wearing a size 10 to 12, and the prize of feeling good is worth all of the hard work.

"It did get hard sometimes," said Chris, "and it's even harder when you are craving something.

"I have one pair of jeans that I call my fat jeans, and I get them out on low days."

Chris attended Slimming World classes at The New Croft, on Chalkstone Way.

Please support us during Hospice week

ST NICHOLAS Hospice Care is encouraging readers to support Hospice Care Week (7-13 October). We are joining forces with other hospices across the UK, along with national charity Help the Hospices, to highlight the growing need for hospice care.

Hospices provide vital support for people with life-shortening conditions and their families. Demand for hospice care is increasing, with a huge predicted increase in the number of older people in the UK over the next 20 years.

Your readers can show their support by signing our online 'Count me in!' pledge. We want to ensure the valuable work of local hospices is recognised, so we can continue to provide high-quality care for patients people and their families.

For more information, go to www.stnicholashospicecare.org.uk. To join the 'Count me in!' pledge to spread the word about hospice care, please go to St Nicholas Hospice Care's Facebook page, at www.facebook.com/stnicholashospicecare

Look after the animals

AS COLD weather approaches, we should be aware that wild animals may search for warmth and sustenance within our homes.

And, if they can get easy access and find sufficient food for the winter months, who could blame them? Animal Aid would encourage people who do find a squirrel in their attic or a mouse in their kitchen not to panic and call in 'pest' controllers. The traps and poisons they use can cause prolonged agony to animals and do nothing to solve the underlying reasons why that animal moved in. Instead, we ask people who have an unwanted houseguest to take a few practical steps to encourage that animal to move on. To that end, Animal Aid has produced a series of free fact sheets to help local residents deter birds, squirrels, foxes and rodents. We also have a free report entitled Alternatives to Culling, which looks at the issues in greater detail. Please contact info@animalaid.org.uk or call 01732 364546 to order your free fact sheets or report (please state if there is a specific species you require information about).

Black cats are cute too!

A PET owner has defended black cats as nine of the furry friends wait for homes in Haverhill.

Gemma De Angelo, of the Chalkstone Estate, contacted the Weekly News after reports from the Cats Protection revealed that black cats seemed to be bottom of the heap.

Gemma has a tabby called Henry and a black cat called Alfie.

She said: "They are both beautiful and have different but lovely personalities. We don't prefer the tabby one because of how he looks. We love them the same and they are both affectionate."

Maria Connolly, branch co-ordinator for Haverhill and Stour Valley, said that the "unlucky" animals are always the last to be chosen.

BROTHERS: Henry, the tabby, and Alfie are both affectionate and have lovely personalities, says Gemma.

Students honoured at graduation

HAVERHILL graduates from University Campus Suffolk (UCS) have scooped extra honours at their ceremony.

Two students from the town not only took home first class honours in their chosen degrees, but also received extra accolades for their hard work and commitment to their course.

The Busy Bees Prize for outstanding student of the year in Children's Care, Learning and Development was awarded to Kerrie Williams, 44, of Munnings Close.

The "exceptional" student began her higher education in 2009, and has since moved through her learning, improving at every step.

Kerrie was given the award by Cathy Butler, Manager of Busy Bees at West Suffolk Hospital.

The 44-year-old only found out she had won a few weeks before the graduation ceremony, which took place on September 28 in Bury St Edmunds.

Kerrie said: "It was a shock - but it was a lovely shock."

"I got a first class honours degree, and it's been four years of hard work, but worth it."

The Finance Cup, sponsored by

DEBRA FOX

Baker Tilly, was awarded to Kerry Blackman, of Orkney Close, for outstanding performance on an Association of Accounting Technicians course.

The mum, 24, balanced a full-time job with looking after daughter Ellie, 6, and is set to progress through to Chartered Accountancy in February as a result of her success.

She said: "It was quite difficult, and I have had to sacrifice a lot, but it's definitely been worth it."

"It is nice to know that you have put in three years and got something out of it."

More than 900 people attended the graduation ceremony, which was the fifth held by UCS Bury St Edmunds at West Suffolk College.

A spokesman for West Suffolk College said: "This was a joyful event, with lots of smiling faces and happy people."

"It was a true reflection of all the work put in by these students in their studies and by the staff at UCS Bury St Edmunds in supporting and training them."

Big collection starts tomorrow

SHOPPERS will be encouraged to do their bit for diabetes as a mammoth fundraiser takes part in a Haverhill supermarket.

Starting tomorrow, Tesco stores across the country will take part in the Big Collection for chosen charity Diabetes UK.

Around 600 branches are participating in the biggest collection ever organised by the charity.

Chris Turk, team leader for Haverhill, suffers from Type 1 diabetes and he has been looking for volunteers to man shifts across the weekend.

Diabetes occurs when the amount of glucose in the blood is too high because the body does not produce any or enough insulin.

Call Chris on 01787 238 341 or 07713009750 if you can help.

PLAY BALL: Some of the athletes enjoying the fun at RAF Mildenhall

Sports day raises plenty of smiles

FOOTBALL, frisbee and basketball were only some of the activities on offer at an annual sports day.

The 32nd Joan Mann special sports day was held at RAF Mildenhall on September 28 and the glorious weather made it a fun day for athletes and spectators alike.

The success of Haverhill's first Summer Bash meant that the trip was paid for by adult support charity Lamp H – which had 32 participants and volunteers attend on the day.

Deputy town mayor and chair of Lamp H Cllr Maureen Byrne praised the event for its success.

She said: "The club members see this event as the highlight of their year's programme."

"The hospitality at RAF Mildenhall is outstanding and no effort is spared to ensure the full participation of all entrants – whatever their abilities."

Haverhill town mayor Cllr Roger André also attended, and thanked Haverhill businesses for ensuring the Summer Bash had an outstanding first year.

He said: "The hard work and generosity of local businesses has brought a smile to the faces of the 32 attendees."

Driver banned for two years

A DRIVER who crashed into other vehicles while over the drink-drive limit has been banned for two years.

Gary Dickson, 47, of Helions Park Grove, Haverhill, drove his partner's BMW around the town centre despite having no driving licence or insurance.

He was spotted near Haverhill Tesco on Cangle Road on July 27 where he drove over several traffic calming measures before striking the side of a car travelling in the opposite direction.

Dickson also collided with two parked cars, one of them in a disabled parking bay, and the impact forced it forward to strike a third vehicle.

Robert Sadd, prosecuting, said a concerned member of the public who had been following Dickson stepped in, removed the ignition keys from the BMW and called the police.

Mr Sadd said: "Thank goodness no pedestrians were hurt or people in parked cars."

Ipswich Crown Court was told on Tuesday that Dickson, who works as a steel erector, would usually get a lift to work or use public transport.

He borrowed his partner's car to take himself and his workmates to a weekend job in Hornchurch.

Richard Potts, mitigating, said that the incident was over in a matter of minutes and that the 47-year-old did not exceed the speed limit on the one-mile journey.

He said: "It was a regrettable lapse of judgement. The reason he has pleaded guilty is that it had the potential to be harmful to other individuals."

Mr Potts also hailed the incident as a fall from grace for the 47-year-old, who has never taken a driving test.

Dickson pleaded guilty to dangerous driving, driving with excess alcohol, having no driving licence and no insurance.

He was sentenced to six months in prison, suspended for 15 months.

The 47-year-old is also banned from driving for two years and will face an extended test if he applies for a licence.

Sentencing him, Ms Recorder Heather Rogers QC said: "This driving took place shortly before 8pm in a town centre where other drivers were on the road and other people were present."

"It is fortunate for you that the damage was only to vehicles and not to individuals."

"I'm sure you appreciate how serious the matter is and how close it was to a sentence of immediate imprisonment."

VOLUNTEERS across Haverhill were brewing up to do their bit for Macmillan Cancer Support.

Mugs of hot drinks and slices of cake were passed around in exchange for donations on Friday as part of the charity's World's Biggest Coffee Morning event and the collection of small contributions made for a very big total overall.

Year 4 pupils at Place Farm Primary Academy, Haverhill, raised £20 through their coffee and cakes and the Friends of Place Farm raised £40 to add to the pot.

Castle Manor Academy, in Chalkstone Way, made a real morning of it and served up some live entertainment provided by house band Nice Manors with their refreshments.

More than £1,000 was raised for the third year running at Kedington's Royal British Legion Hall at an event organised by Hazel Mynott and Linda Claydon.

As well as serving refreshments there was a raffle with 80 donated prizes and a variety of stalls for browsing. Their total was around £1,300.

Hazel said: "We have done really, really well. We've had lots of wonderful support from retailers and companies for prizes and we are very grateful."

Debbie Rawlings, of Cuts Unlimited on Queen Street,

Haverhill, held an event in the town's square in a bid to beat last year's total of £925.

The team, which also included Sue Vallis from The Craft Basket and help from Ellis Interiors, Serenity Foot Care and Jewell Windows, raised £2,794.

Debbie said: "We were busy all day and I want to thank everyone who helped out - it was one massive team effort."

DADDY'S GIRL: Jamie with Lily, above, and looking nervous before his jump, right

Leaping for little Lily

JUMPING from more than 10,000ft is not many people's idea of fun.

But Jamie Bamber, 35, did just that after being inspired by his 4-year-old daughter Lily, who suffers from Leighs Disease – a rare blood condition.

The dad-of-two decided to take on the ambitious parachute jump in a bid to add to the £17,000 raised by his family for the Lily Foundation.

The charity, which supports those with mitochondrial disease and other metabolic disorders, has been a great comfort to Jamie and wife Michelle, 31.

He said: "It feels great to have done it, and I really wanted to do something for the Lily Foundation because they have always been good to us and they deserve every penny they can get."

Lily was diagnosed with the condition – which means her blood doesn't produce enough energy to support her movements – in December last year.

Jamie, of Burnthouse Close, Haverhill, had a gruelling nine-hour wait before boarding his plane due to low cloud cover.

He said: "Aside from my kids, it was the best thing I have ever done in my life. Coming down in the parachute was quite tranquil, and I had a nice chat with my instructor on the way down."

Jamie, 35, whose second daughter Willow was born four weeks ago, has raised £900 so far but hopes to take his total up to £1,500.

Jamie is already hunting for another challenge and is keen to hear suggestions on what he can turn his hand to next.

He said: "I'm thinking about doing the London to Brighton cycle ride but I want to do something that's going to get the adrenalin running – I don't know if anything tops what that feeling was."

"Lily thought it was amazing and very cool what I'd done."

To make a donation to Jamie go to www.justgiving.com/jamie-bamber and visit www.thelilyfoundation.org.uk for more on the charity.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Scouts say thank you

GUIDES and scouts in Haverhill have thanked Summer Bash organisers for their £750 donation.

The money will go towards renovating Scout and Guide HQ in Colne Valley Road. John Mabb, chairman of the Scouts and Guides fundraising committee, said that the donation will go towards replacing existing buildings and other activities.

Cancer race makes a mint

A RACE organised by Slimming World in Haverhill has raised almost £700 for Cancer Research UK.

Consultants Tania Watson and Mel Laing organised a Race at your Place event which took place in July.

Participants could choose to run, walk or jog 2k, 5k or 10k all in honour of the cancer charity.

Their final total is currently at £687.

Police drop in to meet new recruits

BOYS IN BLUE: Matthew Pilling and Evie-Mai Chilcott dressed up.

A POLICE van pulled up at a town primary school last week – but no one was in trouble.

The foundation class at Westfield Primary School on Chalkstone Way had a lesson in the law as two policemen paid them a visit.

The 3- and 4-year-olds modelled some police hats and jackets before taking a seat in the back of PC Mark and PC Stephen's van.

Class teacher Tracy Quarrell said: "The policemen spent the rest of the morning directing the children's small cars and bikes traffic. They could not resist staying for a snack of milk and crumpets with jam made by the children themselves."

"The visit helped the children understand about different jobs and people who are there to help us in the community"

Contact the school on 01440 761697 for more information about places for September 2014.

Have you had a say on health?

MORE than 100 people across West Suffolk are keen to have their say on health.

West Suffolk Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) recently held a series of market stall events to encourage residents to share their views. An estimated 150 people turned out to the stalls in Haverhill, Newmarket and Bury St Edmunds to give their opinion on the state of the health service.

Everyone who signed up for the West Suffolk CCG health forum will receive regular news and updates on their healthcare.

Jo Finn, patient and public engagement lay member for the CCG said: "We are delighted so many people visited our market stalls."

"The priority of the CCG is to talk with as many people as possible so we can commission the right health services for the local area."

Market stalls were also held in Brandon, Mildenhall and Sudbury.

You can sign up to the NHS West Suffolk CCG Health Forum at www.westsuffolkccg.nhs.uk

Some tips on how to get the best from your business

ONE of the country's leading entrepreneurs is coming to Haverhill with a talk to shake up business-minded people.

Nigel Botterill, founder of thebestof franchise and Entrepreneur's Circle organisation, is the guest speaker at thebestof Haverhill's next event.

The businessman's talk, How to Stay Poor in Business, will encourage companies to consider the faults that prevent them from being successful.

Elaine Carr, owner of thebestof Haverhill, said: "The guidance and support that Nigel offers business owners is invaluable."

"It's all very practical, there's no jargon or business speak just plain talking, solid business advice which is delivering results for companies across the UK."

Mr Botterill last visited Haverhill in 2011 for a seminar and will return to the Haverhill Arts Centre on October 17, from 6pm.

Tickets for the event cost £16.80 for bestof Haverhill members and £21.60 for non-members, and all guests get an Indian buffet provided by the Haverhill Tandoori.

Book online via bestofhaverhill-es2.eventbrite.co.uk by October 10.

No ifs and no butts

LIVE Well Suffolk has joined forces with Suffolk LGB&T to provide specific stop smoking services for lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender people.

Smoking stats reveal that around 25 per cent of gay women and 33 per cent of gay or bisexual men smoke – a higher percentage than those of their straight counterparts.

The two organisations have launched the No Ifs or Butts campaign in the hope it will inspire the county's estimated 35,000 LGB&T population to kick the habit. Go to tosuffolklgbtnetwork.co.uk

New badge of honour for hard-working playgroup

SMILES: Karen Thompson, Playgroup Leader, with Michelle Miller and Janine Polley, Deputy Playgroup Leaders, and some of the children

A VILLAGE playgroup has celebrated success after receiving recognition for good work.

Linton Granta Playgroup, based at Linton Village College, has been accredited by the Pre-school Learning Alliance after a two-and-a-half year effort.

This means that the group has been recognised for top quality work and tells parents that they are committed to keeping standards high.

The new accreditation comes only weeks after Linton Granta were awarded an Outstanding Ofsted report.

Leader Karen Thompson said: "It's all about commitment and improvement by reflecting on your practice, and the quality of practice that you give to children and their families."

The playgroup was closely

examined by inspectors and parents and staff were interviewed about the facilities and activities.

Criteria that the group were tested on included the development of learning and play, curriculum and assessment, working alongside parents and carers and processes for supporting children with special educational needs and impairments.

Now that Karen and her team have received the accolade, there is plenty more work to be done in the future.

The leader said: "From my point of view, now that I am an accredited person I am committed to improvement and maintaining the Outstanding grade."

"We want to improve our place in the community and go out into care homes and get the Granta school back on board with us.

"I want people to realise that once we take it on board we have to be committed to the whole process, which is extremely hard work."

Karen said the playgroup has to submit an annual case study for the next two years, detailing something that they wish to improve on.

The first report is due in May 2014.

The scheme was launched in 2004 and as well as encouraging early years providers to improve their care, it aimed to reassure parents that their children were being well looked after.

has undertaken training in the Wills and Probate Department and will be using her wealth of knowledge to assist clients in the towns' offices.

Hayley Ford is the latest addition to the practice having qualified as a solicitor last month. She joined Leanne and the other members of the team, Sarah Bruce, Tracy Bysouth, Christine Gee, Gina Netsel and Julia Booth, on the Wills and Probate team, offering assistance at all three offices.

Partner Melanie Pratlett has been with the Practice for 20 years and heads up the department, and also takes the accolade for being one of the most experienced practitioners in the field due to her membership of STEP (The Society of Estate and Trust Practitioners).

Making a will means that you have made provision for the future when you are no longer here to help loved ones. Despite the task being something many of us put off, the firm makes the process as simple as possible, providing guidance and support on the important issues and tricky questions. Taking away the stress of dealing with financial affairs that need to be resolved when someone dies. All the lawyers at Adams Harrison have experience of administering estates so you can leave the matter in their safe hands.

As well as their offices in Haverhill, Saffron Walden and Sawston, solicitors from Adams Harrison want to make the process as easy as possible for you and are willing to visit you or a family member at home, in hospital or at a residential care home.

Keeping Mum

When James Murray-White's beloved mum Pauline was diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease it was devastating for the whole family. Eight years later, he tells Louise Martin about the mother he knew before diagnosis, his efforts to keep her happy and safe at home – and how his passion for film-making is helping keep precious memories alive.

PAULINE Murray-White has climbed mountains in Tibet, ridden camels in the desert and, in later life, found true love. She's had a fulfilling career as an art and pottery teacher, is a mother of two grown-up sons and has been a life-long Wimbledon fan. But the once active, intelligent and capable woman now requires full-time care, doesn't recognise herself in the mirror and is doubly incontinent.

"Mum was diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease in 2005," says Pauline's son, James. "It was an immediate worry – a body blow really. I didn't know that much about it then..."

Alzheimer's disease is the most common cause of dementia, accounting for about two-thirds of cases in people over 65. It is a degenerative condition caused by abnormal proteins in the brain, which form clumps called 'plaques' and 'tangles', leading to the death of brain cells. The results can include a host of symptoms: memory loss, confusion, disorientation, impaired language skills, reduced judgement, mood swings and, eventually, the breakdown of basic bodily functions. There currently is no cure.

Pauline was 72 when she was diagnosed. At the time, James was living in Jerusalem where he was working as a freelance journalist.

"I can remember exactly where I was when I got the call," says James. "I was in the flat and it was mum's partner, John, who broke the news. He was a very calm, measured man and he explained they had been to their GP who had referred them to a consultant."

"I tried to talk to mum on the phone about it which wasn't easy. She felt very low, but I told her I would support her however I could."

James was true to his word and just a few weeks later he returned to Cambridge to accompany his mum on a hospital appointment. "Mum's first question at that meeting was 'Can I pass it on?'," says James. "Her immediate concern was whether or not it was hereditary."

Pauline's diagnosis came following a knee replacement operation where nurses noticed a change in her behaviour following surgery. "The nurses thought she might have suffered a series of mini strokes following the anaesthesia," explains James. "She started making up stories and was very unsure who John was."

"The nurses were phoning me in Jerusalem saying there was a problem and every time I spoke to mum over the next few days there was a real sense that something had changed. She had gone from being a confident person before she went into hospital to being a bit paranoid; there was a mental change."

Looking back, James believes there were signs of Alzheimer's disease long before his mum's diagnosis. "There was day-to-day forgetfulness about the shopping and lots of repetition," he explains. "On one visit home I remember sorting through a basket of magazines and there was a document from one of these rogue companies that had got John to sign away £5,000 on a holiday home. It wasn't like mum at all to agree to something like that."

Following her separation from her husband when James was 7, Pauline raised her family on her own. She met John in later life and James describes the couple as "blissfully happy". "They had a lovely relationship," he says. "John was a bit older than mum and when he moved in they built an extension so they would be able to live on the ground floor, so they had planned for old age together. John became physically frail and now I can see how they used to cover up for each other, but they were happy in their little bubble."

James returned to the UK in 2011 and by this stage his mum required live-in care. "Things were quite in decline by then," he explains. "Ironically we got carers because of John and, the week they started, unfortunately he went into hospital and never came back. That was three years ago now; he died of a lung infection aged 90 and that care soon transitioned to mum."

"It was a battle to get mum the care she needed and we burnt through her savings in the process. I do feel if I hadn't been here the care wouldn't have happened and mum would be in a home now."

James believes his mum's condition has progressed gradually, but she now requires around-the-clock care, which he wants to continue in her Cambridge home, where she has lived for the last 25 years, for as long as possible. "I really hope to keep mum at home but it's in the hands of fate," he says. "However difficult it can be here and however despairing I can feel at times, I know this is still the best situation. Even on days when mum doesn't necessarily recognise it as her home, she knows it's a good space to be in."

Despite not remembering many of the people around her, Pauline responds every time James talks to her. "She still remembers me," he smiles. "I think the important thing is that mum recognises a good energy, someone who is caring towards her."

"There have very occasionally been those strange, magical days when I catch a glimpse of the mother I knew 20 years ago, but that hasn't happened for a while. I can remember one clearly when I was here on a visit four or five years ago – it was just amazing – but I don't think we'll see many more of those days now."

James has inherited his mum's passion for travel, and his time spent in Jerusalem, as well as Mongolia, north Canada, Ireland and Scotland, led him to discover film-making, which he has now turned into a career.

In 2007, two years after his mum's diagnosis, James started filming Pauline as a way of documenting her dementia, while keeping her memories alive. Called Keeping Mum, the 10-minute film opens on a conversation between the mother and son, where Pauline poignantly says 'I don't want to forget; I don't think we should forget'. "When mum was diagnosed I realised we were a family that had a lot of photographs but no film," explains James. "I started filming mum in everyday situations; I was trying to get her to talk a bit more about her past but at that stage her memory was starting to go."

Created over a number of years, Pauline's deterioration is evident throughout the film, as is the affection the mother and son have for each other.

Now 80, Pauline has lived with Alzheimer's for eight years without medication. In the early stage of her illness, like many Alzheimer's patients, doctors considered prescribing Aricept, a cholinesterase inhibitor licensed to treat the disease. According to Alzheimer's Research UK (ARUK) – the UK's leading dementia research charity, which is based in Cambridge – this drug can help a patient's condition through improvement in thinking, memory, communication or day-to-day activities. However, others may find their condition stays the same, when they would have expected to become less able as their dementia progresses, while some people notice no effect at all.

"Mum's always had a fragile stomach and one of the side effects of Aricept, and similar drugs, is stomach issues," explains James. "There is new stuff on the market but it does depend on what stage you're at and other physical factors."

James is a supporter of dementia research, which he says is desperately underfunded, and, although he admits a breakthrough is unlikely to help his mum, he's passionate about raising awareness of the disease.

Alzheimer's Research UK reports that dementia is affecting hundreds and thousands of people in the UK and that figure is expected to rise significantly in the next generation. Most are over 65, but more than 15,000 under-65s have dementia, often referred to as early-onset dementia, including people in their 50s, 40s and even in their 30s. In Cambridgeshire alone, there are more than 6,000 people living with the disease.

"I don't necessarily believe in a magic bullet, but look how far cancer research has progressed in the last 30 years – they say we've virtually cured some cancers," says James. "You can live with Alzheimer's and other forms of dementia. Mum's a great example of having lived with it for eight years without a tablet. We're not seeing the worst effects of it at the moment, perhaps we're staving it off?"

"I can only imagine the effects in mum's head but I do believe keeping her in this situation, in her familiar surroundings, with people she knows, has made it a very gradual decline."

■ Alzheimer's Research UK relies on public donations to fund its vital work. For more information about Alzheimer's disease and related dementias, or to make a donation, visit alzheimersresearchuk.org or call 0300 111 5555.

■ Keeping Mum will be shown alongside a selection of other short films about dementia at the Centre at St Paul's, Hills Road, Cambridge, on Saturday, October 19. The event takes place from 7pm until 9.30pm, and a panel discussion with dementia scientists will follow the showings.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Share and work together

CYCLISTS and drivers are being encouraged to share the road in a new campaign.

Suffolk County Council and Suffolk Police are urging the road users to look out for each other as part of the season's road safety bid.

Cyclists are being told to make their signals clear to other road users, use lights after dark and follow the Highway Code while drivers are encouraged to give cyclists plenty of room.

Visit suffolkroadsafe.net/look for a list of supporters.

Finding out why breast is best

A COUNTYWIDE conference on breastfeeding was held this week.

The session aimed to integrate breastfeeding services across Suffolk and increase the number of mothers who choose to breastfeed.

Midwifery staff, representatives from GP surgeries and Cllr Alan Murray, Suffolk County Council's cabinet member for health and adult care, were only some of those in attendance at the event on Tuesday.

Hitch a lift with a friend

DRIVERS are being encouraged to cut costs and emissions and share a ride to work next week.

National Liftshare Week runs from October 7 to October 11 and Suffolk County Council is also running a photography competition to coincide with the campaign.

Send your Suffolk-related snaps to freshways@suffolk.gov.uk by October 12 to win a hamper of finest foods from across the county.

Find drivers travelling your route and visit suffolkcarshare.com.

Olympic swimmer makes guest appearance

HAVERHILL-based 1st Stop Recruitment held a sparkling evening at Ickworth House in Bury St Edmunds in honour of the Dame Kelly Holmes Trust. Olympian Adam Whitehead attended on behalf of the charity and gave a speech about his sporting success. Adam swam at five European Championships, two World Championships and two Commonwealth Games. Lesley Whiting, director of 1st Stop Recruitment, said: "It was fantastic to see so many of our clients past and present at the event. They, along with many other businesses in Haverhill, have helped us raise a fantastic £1,000 to help the Dame Kelly Holmes Trust."

Just one call made in Suffolk during fire strike

ONLY one emergency call was received across Suffolk during a four-hour fire service strike.

Suffolk Fire and Rescue Service responded to the call which turned out to be a false alarm at a care home in the south west of the county.

Firefighters were operating a reduced service on Wednesday afternoon as the Fire Brigades Union (FBU) decided to walk out for the first time in 10 years following a row over pensions.

Deputy chief fire officer, Mark Hardingham, said: "We operated a reduced service this afternoon, but lizzy.buchan@cambridge-news.co.uk

our focus remained on protecting the people of Suffolk and those who visit our county.

"We're pleased that there were no major incidents for our firefighters to respond to and I'd like to thank them for providing cover.

"Normal service has now resumed but we'd urge people to continue to be safe and vigilant around fire risks."

Twenty of Suffolk's 35 fire stations were available during the strike and staff who were not striking were on standby to crew the engines.

Matt Wrack, Fire Brigades Union General Secretary, said the union has not ruled out further industrial action.

He said: "This was solidly supported strike action by firefighters across England and Wales. It has demonstrated their anger and their determination.

"This strike was a last resort after the government refused to negotiate – and a warning shot that firefighters are serious about keeping a fair, safe and workable pensions scheme."

Firefighters are concerned about government proposals to change the pensions scheme, which could see some staff working until they are in their sixties.

Mr Wrack said: "Firefighters across the country are reporting a fantastic response from the public, who seem to understand that the government's proposals on pensions are ludicrous.

"We haven't ruled out further industrial action, but let's hope common sense wins out, public safety is put first and the government comes back open to compromise."

NEW RELEASE: Peter's book will be launched on October 10.

New shipping book sets sail

DEBRA FOX

A DEBUT book by a Haverhill author is about to be released.

Where The Bad Boys Go, by Peter Benson, follows the story of The School Board for London's Industrial School Training Ship Shaftesbury, moored in the Thames off Grays, Essex, from 1878 to 1906.

The story starts in 1854 at her launch as the P&O passenger ship, Nubia, and ends in 1906, with the auction and subsequent last voyage to a breakers yard in Holland.

Where The Bad Boys Go explores the ship, the crew and the passengers, revealing previously unheard of details of Shaftesbury's life at sea.

Peter, who has born and raised in Orsett, Essex, now lives in Haverhill.

He currently volunteers at Thurrock Museum, in Grays, which agreed to publish the book.

Where The Bad Boys Go got its name from some of the ship's ex-boys who ended up in magistrates court for their failings. The Shaftesbury took boys from the age of 12 to 15, who were sent to learn a trade.

The book launch is at the Thameside Complex, Orsett Road, Grays, Essex on October 10, from 7.30pm.

Nursery in top five in UK

A CHAIN of nurseries, with a branch in Haverhill, made the shortlist for a prestigious award.

Dizzy Ducks Day Nurseries ranked in the top five for Nursery Chain of the Year at the recent Nursery World Awards 2013.

This means that the company, which has a nursery and out of school centre in Haverhill, is in the upper tier across the whole of the UK.

The Haverhill nursery, on Homefield Road, boasts spacious rooms and gardens, as well as a specific area for babies.

Dizzy Ducks also has facilities in Billericay, Ongar and Harlow.

This year's Nursery World awards were the fifth event held to present accolades to outstanding early years and childcare.

CONGESTION: The Suffolk Chamber of Commerce is campaigning against tolls for the A14

Charging tolls on A14 'would be damaging'

A CAMPAIGN has been launched to fight a proposed toll on the A14 which would cause a "unique disadvantage" for the county.

The Suffolk Chamber of Commerce has spoken out at the proposals to turn part of the A14 near Huntingdon into a toll road, which will begin construction in 2015 if given the go ahead.

Last week the Chamber launched its 'No Toll Tax on Suffolk' campaign against what it described as "damaging" proposals.

Chief executive John Dugmore said: "For many years, Suffolk Chamber, our members and firms across the county have been calling for improvements to this major part of our economic infrastructure, however not at the expense of tolling.

"There is no doubt though that the proposals put forward by the Department for Transport will be damaging to our economy and tolling of the A14 will have a detrimental impact on business and Suffolk."

The plans are being consulted on over the next two months.

Cars would be expected to pay £1 or £1.50 to use the road, while lorries would pay between £2 and £3.

Mr Dugmore said: "These proposals provide a unique disadvantage for Suffolk. Suffolk businesses will be unique in facing a toll to get goods to market and to get supplies from businesses around the country.

"The Deputy Prime Minister Nick Clegg last week suggested that the new toll road would 'spread the burden' on improvements to the A14. Spreading the burden is exactly what tolls will not do. Rather, they will put a greater burden on this particular part of the country."

Adding his voice to the campaign, Cllr Graham Newman, Suffolk County Council cabinet member for roads and transport, said: "We support improvements being made to the A14 but tolling the road will create unfairness."

"It is a toll uniquely on Suffolk businesses – and that is an unfair tax on the county. The Government must listen to the voice of business and rethink their tolling proposals."

A representative for the Highways Agency told the News last week: "The level of tolling proposed is more than offset by the business benefits of more reliable and reduced journey times."

For more information go to suffolkchamber.co.uk/notolltaxon-suffolk.

Man caught with £100k of cannabis

A MAN caught with almost £100,000 worth of cannabis claims that assets police say were gained from his crimes and should be seized were a gift from his mother.

Hanif Shakeri was jailed for 12 months last November after pleading guilty to possessing cannabis with intent to supply, careless driving and possession of criminal property.

Police found that Shakeri, 27, was storing a large quantity of cannabis, scales, plastic bags and seven mobile phones at his home at Home Farm, Stradishall, near Haverhill, after he was detained for dangerous driving on December 13, 2011.

This week Shakeri, who was released from prison immediately after being sentenced because he had already spent 329 days on remand, returned to court for a hearing designed to recoup as much as possible of what he gained from his offending.

Specialist financial investigators have established that Shakeri has assets worth £455,000 and that the value of the cannabis found at his property was £94,500.

However, Shakeri, who is from Iran originally, is disputing that following the death of his father, his mother had sold properties in Iran and transferred the proceeds to him.

The case has been adjourned until December pending further inquiries.

Fair offers jobs advice

SKILLS Minister Matthew Hancock is urging the people of Haverhill to find out more about local job opportunities.

The West Suffolk MP is holding a jobs fair in the town's Arts Centre on October 11.

On the day, there will be plenty of job opportunities information as well as the chance to brush up on your CV and find out more about apprenticeships.

Mr Hancock has also teamed up with West Suffolk College to provide vital careers advice for young people.

Adams Harrison Solicitors, the Jan Cavell Furniture Company, Crem Recruitment and the National Apprenticeship Service have signed up to attend the event, which will run from 10am until midday.

Mr Hancock said: "If you've thought about apprenticeship, are looking for work or would like to change jobs then come along on the 11th to see what Haverhill has to offer."

Attendance is free and everyone is wel-

Hospice care goes digital

PATIENTS and their families can stay in touch with their local hospice as care goes online.

St Nicholas Hospice Care has launched live video links and web chats via Skype to make their services more accessible for those who feel uncomfortable using the telephone.

The first sessions took place yesterday with St Nicholas Hospice Care First Contact team members Gayle Jenkins and Jane Wythe.

The First Contact team is the first point of contact for newly diagnosed or referred patients.

Jane said: "We hope these new ways of contacting the First Contact team will make it easier for some people, and help us to guide them through their first steps with the hospice."

Patients, family members and friends can book a session online at www.stnicholashospicecare.org.uk/first-contact/video-chat. The hospice's Skype username is stnicholashospicecare.

The sessions will take place every Wednesday between 2-3pm.

Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy Radio Show Live! Cambridge Corn Exchange, tomorrow, Friday, October 4, at 7.30pm. Tickets £22 - £27 from (01223) 357 851 / www.cornex.co.uk

"ARTHUR Dent is having a bad day. Both his house and his planet have been demolished. The girl he really - really - fancied is on the third arm of a two-headed alien. His best friend isn't from Guildford after all, but a small planet near Betelgeuse. He hasn't even managed to find himself a decent cup of tea. And he's still wearing his dressing gown."

You know the story, you've probably seen the film, but have you seen the radio show - live?!

Directed by Dirk Maggs - Douglas Adams chose Maggs himself for the adaptation - the classic, space-warped tale is visiting the Cambridge Corn Exchange for a radio style imagining, drawing on all the madcap characters, barmy plotlines and ridiculous corners of the universe that bubble along in the original story, it also introduces a few new ones to boot.

You'll get to hang out with Trillion, Zaphod Beeblebrox and Marvin the Paranoid Android, and presumably laugh your socks off.

Modern Mikado

IF YOU'VE an obsession with glitz, glamour and fashion, the likelihood is you'll utterly adore Opera della Luna's version of Gilbert and Sullivan's The Mikado, dahling.

The company (they're Cambridge Arts Theatre regulars now), have taken the classic comic opera, originally set in Japan, and launched it into the riotous world of modern day fashion houses.

As with the original, it's the costumes that will dazzle; expect the cast to be trussed up in bizarre concoctions and fantastical creations, inspired by the likes of designers Versace, Gaultier and Lacroix – with more sequins than you can probably handle.

The team say on their website: "Our brief however was not to copy Versace, Lacroix or Gaultier – but to infuse the show with something of the spirit of their creativity: a homage to those who are not afraid to challenge tradition, or wear old clothes in a new way." Go be inspired.

And don't forget the singing, lots and lots of lustrous singing.

● The Mikado, Cambridge Arts Theatre, Tuesday, October 8 – Saturday, October 12 at 7.45pm. Tickets £15 - £27 from (01223) 503333 / cambridgeartstheatre.purchase-tickets-online.co.uk

■ I LOVE THE 60s, a 60s spectacular featuring Sounds Force 5, with special guest stars Abbie Matthews, Jason Lunn plus 60s hit recording legend Wayne Fontana, who had hits such as Pamela Pamela and Groovy Kinda Love with his backing group The Mindbenders, are at the Arts Centre tonight at 8pm.

■ Due to popular demand, JOHN ETHERIDGE, one of the world's most respected guitarists, returns to the Arts Centre tomorrow at 8pm for the All That Jazz Club, and is joined by the Hannah Horton Quartet. Not only was John the guitarist for the celebrated jazz violinist Stephane Grappelli, he plays in a duo with the eminent classical guitarist John Williams and has performed with such greats as Andy Summers, Dizzy Gillespie and Nigel Kennedy. He will be joined by Hannah Horton and her quartet: John Crawford on piano, Rob Statham on bass and Charlie Price on drums.

■ Due to unforeseen circumstances the TASHI LHUNPO MONKS will not be appearing on Saturday.

■ On Wednesday, October 9, the Haverhill Art Group welcome the return of PROFESSOR SLINN, who will give a lecture on 20th Century Masterpieces. Come along for a 7.30pm start.

■ On the cinema front, RED 2 (12A), the sequel to 2010's comic-book inspired action comedy is showing on Monday, October 7, at 1.30pm and Tuesday, October 8, at 7.45pm. With a stellar cast including Helen Mirren, Anthony Hopkins, Bruce Willis, John Malkovich and Catherine Zeta Jones, 'black ops' agent Frank Moses begrudgingly quits retirement after learning that Interpol wants his scalp and is news from reunited with his motley team of ageing operatives and soon finds himself knee-deep in Cold War mayhem. On Friday, October 11, and Tuesday, October 15, at 7.45pm is WHAT MAISIE KNEEV (15) starring Julianne Moore and Steve Coogan as the divorced and irresponsible parents of sensitive daughter Maisie. Based on Henry James's 1897 novel, updated to present day Manhattan, this is an unflinching account of a wildly dysfunctional family.

■ Dates for the diary include JACKIE OATES'S LULLABIES on Wednesday, October 16, at 8pm, with a 45-minute workshop for parents and their young children at 2pm, Centre Stage's RETURN TO THE FORBIDDEN PLANT a cosmic adventure of meteoric proportions based on the motion picture Forbidden Planet from Tuesday, October 22, to Saturday, October 26, at 7.30pm, with a matinee on Saturday at 2.30pm, and PRESTON REED, New York master guitarist on Sunday, October 27, at 8pm.

FILTH certificate 18, 1h37m

EVERYONE is above the law, including the police, in Jon S Baird's giddy and grim black comedy adapted from Irvine Welsh's novel of the same name.

Filth mixes a heady cocktail of sex, drugs and wanton violence and then spikes the noxious brew with a generous dash of racism and homophobia.

Those of a nervous disposition will be fortunate to survive the opening five minutes unscathed as Baird paints a wickedly funny portrait of Edinburgh's police force as a boy's club of degenerates and scoundrels who commit adultery and gleefully sabotage a colleague's chances of promotion.

Glasgow's golden boy James McAvoy takes the sheen off his nice-guy screen image as misanthropic schemer DS Bruce Robertson, who lords over his colleagues and shamelessly sucks up to his superior, Chief Inspector Bob Toal (John Sessions).

When Toal dangles a promotion in front of Bruce, the DS ruthlessly targets his five rivals – Peter Inglis (Emun Elliott), Amanda Drummond (Imogen Poots), Dougie Gillman (Brian McCauley), Ray Lennox (Jamie Bell) and Gus Bain (Gary Lewis) – by exploiting their insecurities.

Unfortunately, his mental state is precarious and when his plans suffer a setback, his world whirls out of control. The only glimmer of hope is a young widow, Mary (Joanne Froggatt), whose innate kindness might not be enough to drag him back from the abyss.

Crunch times

It's a bumper year for apples, experts have told us, thanks to last year's wet summer, this year's late spring and the glorious summer of 2013 – but what if things haven't gone so well?

While many gardeners will be crowing about the vast amount of apples they've picked from their groaning trees, a few will no doubt be wracking their brains about the lack of fruit, brown spots, maggots and general poor performance.

So, if you're in the latter category, why might this have happened?

Well, the tree may be in too dry a spot, which will result in little growth. It may be too wet and the roots may drown each winter, especially in a heavy soil when the roots may be confined in a hole full of water after every rain.

You also need to look at your soil, which may be too acid, too alkaline or just poor, with few nutrients.

Exposure to sun also has a bearing. If the site is too shady then the plant can become stunted.

Royal Horticultural Society (RHS) fruit specialist Jim Arbury, who will be identifying apples at several of the RHS Taste of Autumn Festival events this month, explains: "Sometimes you will find trees originally planted in the sun may have become shaded by a conifer hedge or a building and this can affect

by Hannah Stephenson

fruiting. There have been situations where fruit may appear on one side of the tree which isn't shaded and not on the other, which is."

If the tree was container-planted when you bought it, did you make sure you teased out the roots before planting? If not, they may all be trapped in their original place where they are now strangling each other underground – a problem which is often presented by the plant bursting into life in spring before petering out and looking forlorn all summer.

Others say their apple trees have grown well but simply haven't flowered in spring. This is generally down to flowers being destroyed by frost, or trees being too young or too vigorous.

"Often, when you've neglected a tree, then prune it very hard it will react by producing vigorous growth and may take time to crop again," Arbury explains.

A give-away sign is when the branches are growing very strongly upwards, often with leaves that are dark green.

"The best thing to do with a neglected tree is to prune it over two to three years, to balance everything out, but it may take a few years to settle down again."

Trees which look healthy but don't fruit may be the victims of a serious water shortage at the start of the season, a problem which can easily be rectified.

They may also need another pollinator, especially if you live in an urban area with few other trees around. Apples generally need partners, but usually there are so many apple trees about that you can get away without planting a partner yourself. However, if in doubt, plant another apple tree nearby.

Apples infested with maggots and holes may have fallen victim to apple sawfly or codling moth. The best way to control them is to be vigilant early on in the season, removing any infected fruitlets and clearing up any fallen ones and destroying them as soon as possible along with the maggots within.

Heavy mulches under the trees laid over a woven fabric or plastic-sheet layer traps the hibernating pupae above. You can then expose them to the birds by raking the mulch aside in winter.

Arbury warns apple growers that their bumper crop this year might not be repeated next year if their trees suffer from biennial bearing, carrying a heavy crop one year and little or none the next. The tree exhausts itself by overcropping one year and then has to take a year or more off.

"Biennial bearing often happens in unpruned trees. It's best to prune the trees (generally once between leaf fall in autumn and bud burst in spring) so that the cropping will balance out year on year."

Another solution to biennial bearing is that after the June drop (which usually happens in July, when fruitlets fall from the trees), you should thin the fruits, removing at least half including the crowded, diseased and deformed and leaving only the best. This reduces the load on the tree by lessening the number of seeds, which it takes a lot of energy for the tree to make. The tree should fruit each year if the fruits are always thinned.

Your Guide to Moving Home

Moving home can be a complicated business and in the hectic run up to the big day it is all too easy to forget something vital. The team offers their readers this handy checklist to help avoid any major pitfalls. We suggest you tick them off as you go....

1 4-2 WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Packing – start packing and sorting through your belongings. Now is a good time to de-clutter and pack items rarely used. Make sure you have plenty of sturdy boxes, bubble wrap and sticky tape.
- ☐ Removal companies – get estimates from removal companies, checking that comprehensive insurance cover is available against damage or loss. Is there a packing and unpacking service? Confirm the date of your move with the firm you have chosen.
- ☐ Insurance – check on your home contents insurance policies to ensure that you are covered for the move, and covered at your new address.
- ☐ Utilities – make arrangements for your gas and electricity meters (plus water meters where relevant) to be read and all your appliances to be disconnected on the day of your move. Arrange to take over gas and electricity at your new address, and make sure that all appliances will be properly fitted, plumbed or connected.
- ☐ Telecommunications – Notify your telephone and broadband provider and ask them to make the necessary arrangements for a final account at your present address, and for taking over or installing telephone and broadband facilities at your new home.
- ☐ Post – Look into re-directing your post for a few months to make sure you receive all relevant correspondence.
- ☐ Children – Look into the possibility of your children, especially young children, staying with family or friends on the day of the move.
- ☐ Pets – Make arrangements for any pets to be booked into a cattery or kennels if required. Having your pets microchipped is a good idea and if already microchipped, have the address changed to your new one. Your vet can advise on this.

Change of address – tell companies and organisations that you are moving!

Notify:

- ☐ Employer
- ☐ Inland revenue
- ☐ Local council
- ☐ Banks or Building Societies
- ☐ Credit companies, store cards & other accounts
- ☐ Gas, Electricity and water boards
- ☐ Insurance companies
- ☐ Land / mobile phones
- ☐ Internet and cable / satellite TV providers
- ☐ Doctor, Dentist and Opticians
- ☐ DVLA
- ☐ Veterinary surgery
- ☐ TV Licensing

1 WEEK TO GO:

- ☐ Delivery address – change delivery address of your Cambridge News, milk, groceries and fuel to your new address as appropriate.
- ☐ Laundry – do any last minute laundry that you can – have you arranged for a plumber to disconnect your washing machine correctly?

- ☐ Kitchen cupboards – go through your kitchen cupboards and throw out anything not in date. Also check that all jars and bottles are correctly sealed before packing.
- ☐ Fridges / Freezers – empty and clean out in preparation for moving. If you are moving a freezer and its contents, turn it up to maximum for a couple of days before you move.
- ☐ Valuables / documents – put these in safe place for moving day

4 2-1 DAYS TO GO:

- ☐ Packing – pack a bag for overnight essentials and toiletries and finish all remaining packing into boxes. Remember to label which room each box is destined for.
- ☐ Snack box – pack a box for the kitchen to include essentials like tea, coffee and sugar, as well as the kettle and mugs! Also include other snacks as necessary.
- ☐ Dismantle and disconnect – take down curtains, fixtures and fittings and disconnect white goods ready for transport.
- ☐ Outdoor items – make sure that these are stacked together and ready to be moved.
- ☐ Mobile – place your mobile on charge the night before moving and ensure that all relevant people have your number.

5 ON MOVING DAY:

AT YOUR OLD ADDRESS:

- ☐ Strip beds and pack bedding and nightclothes.
- ☐ Finish packing toiletries box.
- ☐ Direct removal firm personnel or friends helping you move as to what needs to be done.
- ☐ Turn off electric appliances.
- ☐ Disconnect cooker.
- ☐ Turn off boiler / central heating.
- ☐ Turn off water.
- ☐ Read gas meter.
- ☐ Read electricity meter.
- ☐ Secure all windows.
- ☐ Lock all doors.
- ☐ Make final checks and leave key as arranged with new owners.

AT YOUR NEW HOME:

- ☐ Open up & have a look around the new house.
- ☐ Locate fuse box, gas and electric meter and stop cock for reference.
- ☐ Take readings on gas, electric and water meters as appropriate.
- ☐ Organise the direction of boxes to appropriate rooms.
- ☐ Check the van after all is unloaded.
- ☐ Make the beds up for the evening.
- ☐ Sit down and relax – unpack the other boxes the next day.

Open 7 days a week

Open longer than the competition to increase the chances of selling your property.

When you get home

Contactable when you finish work, not when it suits us.

Accompanied viewings 7 days a week

So buyers won't slip through our hands.

Buyers not on other agents books

Most buyers come from more expensive areas - Saffron Walden and the South. As members of the Relocation Agent Network we have agents in Great Dunmow, Bishops Stortford, Harlow, and over 50 agents in the Greater London Area.

Personal service

'We never hear from our agent'. You won't be able to say that about us. Contactable 7 days a week and after office hours, we keep you right up to date about what viewers thought, and will keep you fully informed about what's being done to sell your property. You won't get a better level of dedicated personal service anywhere.

Years of experience

KevinHenry have sold more houses than any agent in Saffron Walden for 25 years and bring that expertise to Haverhill. With 19 members of staff on your team, acting for you.

Web coverage

Rightmove, Zoopla, Relocation Agent Network, our own site and others.

Presentation

From colour photos, floor plans, comprehensive details to advertising at least 3 times in the first 5 weeks, your property will look great.

Going the extra mile

Nobody will try harder than Jodie Miller and her back up staff at head office to get you the best price and help you move with the least amount of stress and hassle.

THE Skoda Superb Elegance Estate 2.0 TDI CR 170PS 4x4 DSG has been named The Caravan Club Towcar of the Year 2014.

The Skoda Superb Elegance Estate 2.0 TDI CR 170PS 4x4 DSG took top honours in its class and went on to be voted overall winner of the 31st Caravan Club Towcar of the Year Competition. The panel of nine judges suggested that it lived up to its name – simply superb!

For the first time in the competition's history, entry invitations were extended to all vehicles capable of towing a trailer over 500kg and that are on sale on October 1, 2013.

In The Club's ongoing quest to provide caravaners with as much information about the vehicles as possible, the usual evaluation of each towcar's dynamic abilities and ergonomic qualities was carried

SIMPLY THE BEST: The Skoda Superb Elegance Estate

SE 105PS; Volkswagen Jetta Sport 2.0TDI DSG; Skoda Superb Elegance Estate 2.0 TDI CR 170PS 4x4 DSG; Jaguar XF 2.2D Luxury; Jaguar XF Sportbrake 3.0D Portfolio; and the Land Rover Range Rover SDV8 Autobiography.

From these Class winners, the sleek, stylish and very capable Skoda Superb emerged as the overall victor, with all driving judges agreeing that "this vehicle is as good as it gets" and "you wouldn't know you were towing a caravan".

All-Wheel drive vehicles competed in two additional categories – 'All-Wheel Drive Under 1,800kg' and 'All-Wheel Drive Over 1,800kg'. First place in the lighter category went to the all-conquering Skoda, while the Land Rover Range Rover SDV8 Autobiography took the honours in the heavier group.

out. Tests included a mid-range 30-60mph acceleration assessment, high-speed towing appraisal, reversing, emergency braking, ride and handling evaluations as well as hill-stop and restart trials. This year, for the first time, car roof loads were assessed, taking in the capacity to carry items such as bicycles.

Held, as in previous years, at the Millbrook Proving Ground in Bedfordshire, the competition attracted 41 entrants. Vehicles were divided into seven price categories, and Class wins in the competition went to: the SsangYong Korando SE; Skoda Octavia hatch 1.2 TSI

Cambridgeshire Community Services NHS

NHS Trust

A Rewarding Career in the Community

Cambridgeshire Community Services NHS Trust is currently recruiting Registered Nurses and Health Care Assistants for the Lord Byron Ward, Brookfields Hospital, Cambridge where the primary focus is rehabilitation.

Now is the time that local clinician-led commissioning is becoming really influential in developing local services for our communities so it is a great time to be involved in shaping those services and working with patients in units closer to their homes.

Deputy Ward Managers Job Ref: 448-CCSP2879

Full Time – Band 6 (£25,783 - £34,530)

We know the quality of clinical leadership is central to a team delivering consistently high standards of care so we are looking for exceptional clinical leaders who can really make a difference.

You will be an experienced Registered Nurse who can inspire, lead and supervise the delivery of care to our patients by embedding a culture of best practice and high standards.

Registered Nurses Job Ref: 448-CCSP2878

Full Time/Part Time – Band 5 (£21,388 - £27,901)

We have vacancies for Registered Nurses who are dedicated to providing the highest standards of care to their patients and who are positive and motivated as well as compassionate and clinically skilful.

We are looking for people who are up for a challenge and are keen to develop their skill-set as we look to change and adapt our local services.

Healthcare Assistants Job Ref: 448-CCSP2873

Full Time/Part Time – Band 2 (£14,294 - £17,425)

We are looking for experienced Healthcare Assistants with enthusiasm, drive and a real commitment to help us strive to achieve the best possible care for our service users. If you have some experience of providing personal care and would like the challenge of working with patients who have a variety of needs, including Rehabilitation, this role will offer you the opportunity to make a real difference to the patients in our community wards.

In return we will offer you excellent career prospects and a commitment to your continuing professional development.

As well as access to full NHS terms and conditions, assistance with relocation is available for registered nurses moving into the area and all successful registered nurse recruits will receive a disturbance allowance of £1000 payable over your first 12 months service with the Trust. On site parking is available and the hospital can be accessed using public transport.

For an informal discussion about these roles please call the Inpatients Ward on 07432 740996.

For full details on these and all other vacancies in the Cambridgeshire and Peterborough region and to apply online, please go to:

www.jobs.nhs.uk

If you do not have access to the internet please call 01480 398652 (24 hour answerphone).

Closing date for all posts: 11 October 2013

Interviews will be held during weeks commencing 14 and 21 October 2013.

It's double delight for Course at finals night

TONY Course was the star of the evening as the Haverhill Charity Summer Darts League finals night was held on Friday at the Ex-servicemen's club.

The night kicked off with the Handicap Cup final between the Rose & Crown B (Carl Chapman, Gavin Evans, Vikki Chapman, Bryan Ellis, Aaron Stock, Dan Flynn and Ricky Skeggs-Terry) and A team (Angie Hearn, Alex Topper, Andy Pordage, Gerald Smith, Kevin Allard, Michael Fitzsimons, Tracey Claydon and John Claydon), with only a 50-point difference in favour of the B team.

The Rose & Crown A team narrowly edged the B team in a close game to take the honours.

Next up were the quarter-finals of the singles with Carl Chapman losing to Trevor Whitby, Pordage losing to Gary Flynn, Richard Watson beating Topper and Allard losing to Course.

The semi-finals saw some of the best games of the evening, with an excellent win for Flynn against Whitby and Watson being edged out by Course.

Course ended the night as champion after a hard-fought win over Flynn.

The pairs were also close affairs. Ian Clarke and Allan Yates pushed Pordage and Topper in a close run semi-final which came down to a magnificent 122 check out by Pordage to progress to the final.

The second semi-final was again a close affair, with Dave Blackburn and Course winning through against Smith and Allard.

Blackburn and Course won the final to make it a great night for Course winning in both main events.

Strong forwards guide youth team to Plate success

HAVERHILL Rugby Club entered an under-13 and under-16 side in the Touchline Suffolk Youth Sevens tournament, with the under-13s going on to win the Plate final.

Playing at the Royal Hospital School, Ipswich, the under-13s progressed to the Plate and took on a strong and well organised Bury side in the semi-finals.

Haverhill consistently used the strengths of the big forward pack of Josh Gilligan and Jo Milner to put the Bury defence under a significant amount of pressure.

Oliver Cooper controlled the game and enabled Haverhill to progress to the final.

Up against a strong Colchester side, Haverhill were weakened by injuries and the match did not start well for them as they conceded two early tries.

The forwards kept Haverhill in the game and with superb tackling from Billy Notley and Cooper, Colchester were prevented from adding to their tally. Haverhill ran in four tries and were deserved 20-10 winners.

The under-16s were placed in a tough pool and lost their two opening matches.

They played their best rugby against Bury, with strong performances from James Carr, Charlie Moody, Charlie Brown and Stefan Ferreira.

Lester Cuasay and Taylor Porter ran in tries to give Haverhill victory but in their final game Haverhill conceded two early tries against Harwich and did not progress.

Mason and Purser help Aztecs to win

AZTECS under-10s maintained their good start to the season with a hard-fought 2-1 win over Cambridge Celts Blue.

The Cambridgeshire Mini Soccer League encounter saw the visitors take the lead before Gabriel Mason pulled one back for Aztecs. Bart Purser grabbed Aztecs' winner in the second half.

Daniel Cordwell's four goals helped West Wrattling defeat Plantation Youth Green 6-0 in Cambridge & District Colts League 14A.

George Jenkinson and Ronnie Ledwith were also on target for Wrattling.

Two from Brandon McKay and one each from Aaron Wiseman, Callum Cooley and David Scott saw Haverhill Rovers beat Hundon Hawks 5-2 in 14D.

Kiddy to the fore in Plate

EILEEN Kiddy was the clear winner of the Fraser Plate at Haverhill Golf Club.

She scored 38 points to finish five clear of the field. Denise Walker was second with 33, pipping Judy Farren to the place on countback.

Jim and Denise Walker had a successful day when they competed in the Letchworth Open as they won on countback with 41 points.

Andrew Pordage carded an impressive nett 64 to win the Mike Rayner Cup and Medal, which saw 81 players take part.

His round also saw him take Division Two by one from Frank Gooch. Martin Bentley was third with 67.

Andrew Softley was first in Division One with 67, two clear of Scott Turner. Michael Bennett was third on 71.

In Division Three, Michael Fowler was first with 65. Stephen Beasley pipped Martin Turner to second place on count-back after both scored nett 69.

Haverhill hosted The Suffolk in a friendly match which was pairs match-play with Hambro scoring.

They were eight holes down with only two matches left on the course, but Andy Fish and Stuart King won by one hole and Glen Hughes and Gooch triumphed in their match by seven to square the overall result.

Haverhill's Richard Brazier, playing alongside Ely City partner John Wilding, produced some scintillating golf to claim victory in the first meeting of the Suffolk Winter Alliance, which was held at Halesworth.

Brazier and Wilding scored 43 points in the fourball better ball stableford event to finish two clear of the field. The next Alliance meeting is a pro-am event at Bury St Edmunds Golf Club on Wednesday, October 16.

Rovers stay undefeated, Boro win in county cup

DAN Cornwell notched a pair as Haverhill Rovers maintained their unbeaten start to the Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division campaign with a 5-3 win at bottom club Woodbridge.

The hosts took a surprise lead but Andrew Ofuso netted his first goal for Rovers before the interval.

Cornwell took the game away from Woodbridge with his brace and Sam Holmes and Richard Gammon effectively sealed the deal.

But the visitors allowed Woodbridge, who have yet to pick up a point this term, to score twice in the last 10 minutes.

Manager Dean Greygoose said while he was glad to have won, he was not so pleased with his side's display.

He said: "Our goalkeeper (Jamie Greygoose) has kept us in the game first half with three top corner saves and even after they scored, we'd already squandered too many opportunities for my liking.

"We had a long team talk at half time about playing at a higher tempo and to be fair, we ripped them apart for the first 20 minutes of the second half.

"But we took our foot off the gas after the fifth goal and became sloppy and the last 10 minutes were frustrating when they got two goals back."

Rovers followed it up with a 3-2 victory at home to fellow Premier Division side Godmanchester in the preliminary round of the Red Insure Cup on Tuesday. Meanwhile, Brian Weaver helped Haverhill Borough on their way to a 3-1 triumph at Felixstowe Harpers in the first round of the Suffolk Senior Cup.

The Touchline Suffolk & Ipswich League outfit took the lead after 20 minutes but Weaver levelled from Owen Longley's cross.

Ryan Geoghegan edged the visitors ahead from John Welsh's corner before half time and Harry O'Connor finished the job soon after the interval from Longley's free kick.

Harpers' hopes of getting back into the tie were dealt a blow after they had a player sent off for picking up a second booking for a foul on Weaver.

Manager Ben Cowling said: "Once we got back on level terms, it was a very professional performance and we're very pleased to have got through because that was a big banana skin.

"A lot of Thurlow Nunn sides go out to Suffolk & Ipswich teams and in the end it was quite comfortable."

But Borough's hopes of a run in the Red Insure Cup were ended by a 5-1 defeat at Ely in the preliminary round on Tuesday.

Adam Murray made it 2-0 to the Robins at half time and the home side continued to dominate in the second half.

Murray scored once more to complete his hat-trick while substitute Andre Moreno netted twice.

Martin Westcott grabbed Borough's consolation.

Up for the challenge: Haverhill's Hamish Stewart challenges Mistley for line-out ball in his side's win.

Hunt hat-trick helps Haverhill slay Mistley with half-century

SKIPPER Adam Hunt scored a hat-trick of tries for Haverhill as they beat Mistley 53-8 in Greene King IPA Eastern Counties Two.

They broke the deadlock after Jake Jeffs' garryowen kick was missed by the opposition full-back and he then made the perfect pass for Hunt to score.

Five minutes later, Hunt's crunching tackle allowed Ricky Brown to gather possession and touch down, with Jeffs converting.

Second row Chris Flannery got the third try for 21-0, but when Hamish Stewart was sin-binned, Mistley kicked a penalty.

The numbers were levelled when Mistley had a player yellow carded, and Jeffs made it 24-3.

Within 30 seconds of the second half, Hunt pounced on a knock-on to score and Jeffs, who was in fine form with his boot, added the extras.

On 65 minutes, a great rolling maul involving Flannery, Michael Lansdowne and Paul Bergin led to Bergin forcing his way over the line for 36-3.

From the restart, Lansdowne gathered possession before smashing through the opposition in a 70-metre run before unselfishly lay the ball off to Brown to score.

Hunt completed his hat-trick after good work by Simon Potter, with Jeffs converting.

And Simon Lester's 30-metre dash and try completed the win before Mistley scored a late consolation try.
